JACK HOLLIDAY ENDS SUFFERING BY SUICIDE

Prominent Ukiah Man, Afflicted With Cancer, Shoots Self in Hospital

Word was received in Ukiah yesday that Jack Holliday had ended his sufferings that morning by committing suicide in the Lane Hospital in San Francisco.

Mr. Holliday had been suffering from an affection of the throat for a long time. A few months ago his condition became very grave and he went to San Francisco and entered the hospital for treatment. While the physicians would not positively say so, his trouble was thought to be cancer. He had suffered a great deal and his condition had become so bad that it was necessary to feed him through a tupe.

H. T. Hopper, of this city, visited him on the occasion of a recent trip to the city, and was told that he was improving and that there was a possibility of his recovery. It was with much surprise, therefore, that Ukiah people learned of his suicide.

Evidently Mr. Holliday, worn out by his intense suffering and despairing of ever regaining his health, decided to end it all, as he left the following notes:

"My dear children, sisters, brothers, relatives and friends:

"Farewell. I can't be a burden to others and suffer the way I am any longer. I know there is no hope and it is a matter of a very short time for me anyway. You may condemn me for the act, but if you could realize my position I don't think you would.

"I know it is cancer and that there is no cure. I am suffering the torture of the damned day and night. And it is getting worse every hour. If you think I have done wrong try and forgive me. May the Lord love and protect you is my prayer."

LETTER TO FRIENDS

A note to "My Dear Old Pals, Mark (Gibson), Henry (Hopper) and Bunt (Cox)," all of Ukiah, read:

"Sorry I can't make another trip with you. But I am going on a longer journey and know you wont blame me when I tell you there is no cure. It would be a few weeks at best and I am suffering the tortures of the damned day and night. And it gets worse every hour, so why stay here and be a burden to others? I had one foot in the dark waters twice since I came here. I hope you have many more fine trips. From 'One Gone.'"

He refers to the auto tours the crowd was accustomed to take together each summer.

He procured the revolver with which he shot himself from his grip, which was in the closet of his room.

The deceased was born and raised in Ukiah and the news of his death under such sad circumstances brought intense gloom to the host of those who had known him and esteemed him since boyhood.

Funeral arrangements had not been announced at the time this newspaper went to press last night.

He leaves a son and daughter, a brother, J. E. Holliday of this city, and three sisters—Mrs. Ella Marks, Mrs. May Hubsch and Mrs. Lily Hudson, to all of whom the heartfelt sympathy of their friends is extended.

SUFFERS APOPLECTIC STROKE

S. McDonald, father of Mrs. Leslie Allenby of this city, suffered a stroke of apoplexy at the home of his niece, Mrs. Frank Hines, in Berkeley last Saturday. The main stroke was preceded by two minor ones the same day, from each of which he recovered in a few minutes. The last stroke however, left him in a paralyzed condition and it will be some time before the effects of it wear away.

Mr. McDonald had gone to Berkeley several days before to visit.

George Burkhart and wife were down from Potter valley yesterday for a short visit.

L. H. Wagar and family, of Eureka, were visitors with A. F. Wagar and family the past week.

"GRANDMA" TANNER DIES AT AGE OF 89 YEARS

Mrs. Mary J. Tanner, better known as "Grandma" Tanner, passed away at the family home in this city yesterday morning at the extreme age of 89 years.

Mrs. Tanner was a native of Utica, New York, where she was born in July, 1835. Her maiden name was Mary J. Bryce. She was married in New York in 1860 to her late husband, D. T. Tanner, who passed away here about 30 years ago. Four daughters were born to them, of whom two survive, Mrs. Elsie Carothers, of Oakland, and Mrs. Nannie Narstella, of Nogales,, Arizona. They first came to this county in 1878 and settled in Ukiah, which was a small village at that time, and Mr. Tanner was engaged in business here for many years.

Mrs. Tanner was a woman of broad charity and of many lovable qualities, a fine type of the pioneer mothers who stood shoulder to shoulder with their husbands, sons and brothers in the building up of the western empire. She was loved by all who came into contact with her, and her death will be the occasion of much heartache among the older generation, who knew her so well. She maintained her sweetness of temper and disposition through all the years, and notwithstanding her extreme age, was able to realize the sacrifices made in her behalf of late years by the family and to express her appreciation of them.

The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at the late residence.

BASSETTI FOUND GUILTY AND GIVEN FINE OF $600

S. Bassetti, prominent bootlegger of the Cloverdale section, who was arrested several weeks ago on indictment by the grand jury, and whose case was tried in the superior court before Judge Preston without a jury, was found guilty by the judge, whose verdict was returned in open court last Friday after several days spent considering the evidence.

The judge sentenced Bassetti to pay a fine of $600 and remanded him to the custody of the sheriff until such fine be paid, not to exceed six months. A stay of execution was granted in order to permit Bassetti to raise the money.

Bassetti served several months in jail on a previous conviction under the Wiley local option law, when it was proven that he had been selling to school children. He is considered by the sheriff's office as one of the most persistent and flagrant violators of the prohibition laws in the county. He escaped a jail sentence on this occasion on account of the fact that his previous conviction under the Wylie law did not count as a second conviction under the Wright act.

COAL MINE DEVELOPMENTS TO BE DISCUSSED TODAY

A. L. Fisher, general manager, and C. O. Lauritzen, financial manager of the Camp Carbon Coal Co., the firm which is buying and developing the coal fields on the former Thomas property near Dos Rios, arrived in town yesterday on their way back to Oakland from the mine, and will remain in town today discussing the affairs of the company with local stockholders. This evening the gentlemen will hold a meeting at the Chamber of Commerce rooms, to which the stockholders and anyone else who cares to come are cordially invited. If you want to know about the biggest piece of development going on in Mendocino county today and the one fraught with the biggest possibilities for the future prosperity of Ukiah and Ukiah people you should attend. The gentlemen want to tell you what they are doing, not only for themselves but for the county, and a good attendance is hoped for.

Mrs. Lena Whittaker was here from Potter yesterday.

PAIR OF SWINDLERS GET BEST OF UKIAH MERCHANT

C. Hofman Co. Victimized by Fictitious Check to Amount of $100

A pair of swindlers, R. J. Rawley and John Henning, worked this city last Monday to the tune of $100, subsequently making their getaway to parts unknown. Their victim is the C. Hofman Co., Ben Hofman of that firm having cashed a bogus check from one of them for $100. Henning, who attempted to work other local business men, did not meet with much success and will come out at the little end of the horn, losing $10.

The two made small bank deposits, Henning putting $20 in the Savings bank and Rawley $25 in the Commercial bank. Henning then bought a pair of shoes from Hornbrook, paying him with a check for $10. Hornbrook called up the bank and found the check was good. Later in the day Henning came in again with a check for $66, but Hornbrook shied off and would not cash it. Henning then took it to George Jamison, who cashed it for him. Subsequently calling up the bank, Jamison found the check was no good and went out and found Henning and made him give the money back. Henning tried other houses, but met with no success and disappeared that night leaving his balance at the Savings bank of $10.

Rawley made a purchase of a pair of shoes at Hofman's paying for it with a check. He came back later in the evening and asked if they would cash a check for $75, adding that if they could make it $100 it would be a big accommodation, as he needed the money badly. He made several other purchases with checks, spending $13.50 altogether. He has a balance left at the Commercial bank of $11.50.

The authorities say that the two men were partners and have warned nearby communities to look out for them.

LEGION DANCE BIG SUCCESS

The Armistice ball given by the American Legion last Tuesday evening was an unqualified success from every standpoint. There was a fine crowd out and all enjoyed themselves to the limit.

The hall had been very tastefully decorated with autumn leaves and the colored light effects added much to the beauty of the decorations as well as to the enjoyment of the dancers. Music was excellent.

Late in the evening serpentine and confetti and fancy headgear were given out and the affair wound up in a riot of fun.

It was the most successful dance Ukiah has enjoyed for a long time.

DOS RIOS HOME BURNED

The home of Robert Huber at Dos Rios was destroyed by fire from some unknown cause Tuesday of last week. The house was a total loss, estimated at $2,300, it is said, which was partially covered by insurance.

John Gavin was down from Potter valley to attend the session of the grand jury, of which he is a member, this week.

COVELO SQUAW MAN IS COMMITTED TO ASYLUM

Wm. A. Vick, Covelo squaw man, who was arrested for and confessed to an assault on an Indian child, the granddaughter of his Indian wife, and who subsequently repudiated his confession, was examined for insanity by a board of three local physicians recently and Judge Preston this week after examining the report of the board of examiners, adjudged Vick to be insane and ordered him committed to the insane asylum at Talmage. He will be treated there and on his restoration to sanity it is the court's order that he be returned to jail and tried for his crime.

The child was badly lacerated, but has recovered from her wounds, it is stated.

MISS CONNOLLY DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Well Loved Ukiah Girl Loses Long Fight Against Tuberculosis Tuesday

Miss Gertrude Connolly, daughter of Assemblyman and Mrs. Pat Connolly, died at Colfax Wednesday morning, after a struggle against the dread malady, tuberculosis, lasting for about fourteen months. It became apparent the first of the week that the end was approaching and Mr. Connolly and daughter, Marguerite and son, Will, left here Monday to join Mrs. Connoly and the other members of the family. All were at the bedside when death occurred.

Miss Connolly was born in Ukiah, October 16, 1899, and grew to young womanhood here. After completing the courses in the Ukiah schools she went to San Francisco and took a course in business training and after working in San Francisco for a time, returned here and took a position as accountant in the telephone exchange, which she held until failing health necessitated her resignation.

Always of a happy and optimistic temperament, she would not take failing health seriously until her condition had become very grave. She was advised to go to Colfax for treatment and she took up the fight against her malady with her usual fortitude and cheerfulness. But she had become too greatly weakened and all her efforts to throw off the disease, even with the assistance of the most skillful medical practitioners, were of no avail.

The remains were brought home yesterday and funeral services will be held tomorrow at St. Mary's Catholic church, at 10 o'clock a. m.

Miss Connolly was a girl of most endearing qualities. She was highly thought of by a host of friends in this city and was most tenderly loved by her family and other relatives as well as by her close friends. Her loss will be felt very keenly and the sympathy of the community goes out to the bereaved ones in unstinted measure.

She leaves her parents, a sister, Marguerite, and four brothers, Tom, Will, Emmett and Leonard.

SANFORDS VISIT HERE

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Sanford and son, Henry, came up from San Francisco last Friday and spent Saturday and a portion of Sunday visiting here. A feature of their trip was a family reunion held at the Ed Sanford home east of town.

Mr. Sanford was an assemblyman from this county and also served as state senator of the district for 16 years. He conducted the Dispatch-Democrat actively from 1898 until 1912, when he left Ukiah to take a position as receiver of the U. S. land office at San Francisco under the Wilson administration. He is at present one of the board of harbor commissioners in San Francisco, from which place he is regularly a contributing editor of this newspaper.

The Sanfords have a host of warm friends here and spent a very enjoyable time renewing old acquaintances.

GRAND JURY ADJOURNS

The grand jury adjourned yesterday at noon after a three day session. They returned three felony and three misdemeanor indictments.

HOWARD SAID TO DENY THAT HE WANTS NEWSPAPER

Further developments of interest in connection with the rumored third newspaper in Ukiah came to light this week with the publication in the Press of a portion of a letter purporting to have been written to the Press in answer to an inquiry addressed to C. S. Howard by that journal. According to the Press, Howard disclaims any desire or intention to enter the newspaper business.

Whether the same applies to Harry Elliott, who was said to be representing Howard, remains to be seen. Thus far Elliott remains silent, both personally and in his newspaper, the Willits News.

In the meantime nothing new has transpired as regards the paper which is to be established at Willits in opposition to Elliott's News.

In connection with the above there comes from Sausalito a rumor that Elliott is to start a newspaper there as one of a chain along the Redwood highway.

INVENTORY FILED

The inventory was filed in the Sam Legg estate this week at the office of the county clerk. The inventory shows real and personal property valued at $1594.

Coroner W. F. Ornbaun spent Wednesday at the home of his mother in Cloverdale, returning to his home in this city the following evening.

Ed Haehl, of Cloverdale, was here as a grand juryman this week.

BOOTLEGGER WANTED HERE CAPTURED IN WOODLAND

County authorities here were advised from Woodland the first of the week that Frank Haberhauer, former Santa Rosa man, long sought by authorities as the rum-runner who beat down Constable Donald Heddon, of Point Arena, when the officer attempted to arrest him following the discovery he had liquor hidden beneath a load of apples, was arrested Monday at Woodland.

Some months ago Heddon caught Haberhauer in Point Arena in the act of unloading illicit liquor. When he endeavored to take the man into custody, Haberhauer resisted him and escaped. Since that time officers throughout the state have been on watch for the man.

Heddon wounded two bystanders while attempting to shoot Haberhauer and prevent his escape.

Haberhauer was brought over from Woodland by Deputy Sheriff Weger yesterday and will be tried in the superior court.

A daughter was born in this city November 11, to Mr. and Mrs. Volney Van Dyke.

E. P. Lile, of Modesto, arrived in Ukiah last Tuesday evening for a visit with his sister, Mrs. A. F. McCorquodale.

MISS ROWENA OWSLEY STRICKEN BY DEATH

Unexpected Demise of Well Known Girl Is Shock to Family and Friends

Like a shock out of a clear sky to her family and friends came the news of the death of Miss Rowena Owsley, which was received here last Tuesday evening at a late hour. Miss Owsley had just returned Monday to Oakland and resumed her duties as a trained nurse at the Fabiola hospital following a ten days' visit with relatives and friends in Ukiah.

First intimation that she was ill was received by her parents at the Wayne Crawford ranch Tuesday evening, when they were called by phone and urged to come to Oakland at once as Miss Owsley was in a very critical condition. They left immediately with Mr. Crawford driving the car, and accompanied by Miss Veta White, a cousin of the deceased girl. In the meantime Mrs. Fannie White called the Oakland Emergency hospital where Miss Owsley had been taken, and was informed that Miss Owsley had been brought into the hospital dead and that her death had been caused by gas asphyxiation, news which the hospital people forbore to give the parents. The latter, starting too late to catch the ferry, were not able to get to Oakland until 7 o'clock Wednesday morning, when they were confronted by the information that she was dead.

From all that can be learned, according to Mr. Crawford, who conducted an investigation of the circumstances, Miss Owsley had returned to her apartment, which she shared with another nurse, at about 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon and had lighted the gas log in the grate, turning it low. She had evidently then gone to sleep and the flame in the grate had become extinguished. The escaping gas caused her death. Her body was discovered by her roommate, who came home about 7:30.

When she was taken to the Emergency hospital, by a coincidence Miss Lucile Keller, daughter of G. A. Keller of this city, was on duty, and she recognized Miss Owsley at once, and it was she who telephoned the parents.

Miss Owsley was born in this city February 1, 1903, and grew to girlhood here, receiving her education in the Ukiah schools. After graduating from the Ukiah high school she entered the Fabiola hospital in Oakland to train and graduated from that institution last spring.

Several months ago she had suffered an attack of cerebro-spinal meningitis and it was thought at first here that she had died from the after effects of that malady.

She was one of Ukiah's most popular girls and was universally loved by her friends and companions. The entire community will unite in extending their most sincere sympathy to the stricken relatives.

The funeral will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at Cleland's undertaking parlors.

IN MEMORIAM

(Contributed)

In the passing away of Mrs. Robert John Hopkins at Ukiah, on November 6, 1924, Mendocino county has lost one of its oldest and most revered pioneers.

She was born in the State of New York on June 20, 1837, so had reached the goodly age of 87 years.

Prior to her marriage, she was Mary Jane Porter; her maternal lineage in America is traced proudly back to the family of the illustrious Robert Bruce, so inseparably associated with stirring Scottish history.

She married Mr. Hopkins, of Windham, N. H., on March 26, 1857. A son and two daughters were born to them and a thousand bright hopes clustered round that happy fireside. All too soon, sorrow entered the home taking the three children. Their memory lived, sweet and vivid, in the hearts of the desolated parents through all the years of their long lives.

Deprived by a financial disaster of the stately New England home which had housed successive generations of the Hokpins' family, Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins came to California in 1876 and after brief residences in San Francisco and Mendocino, went to the ranch on the Mendocino-Ukiah road in 1877.

Both possessed the strong pioneer temperament and forceful character so essential to the successful development of new countries. With fearless and highborn courage, they took up life in this isolated region. That they achieved success is due to their own inherent powers for they brought with them the substantial virtues of thrift, industry and the highest principles of honor.

They were one in thought, purpose and achievement and together they bravely met the difficulties and obstacles incident to the arduous life of that day.

Mrs. Hopkins had the pioneer characteristics to a remarkable degree; capable, self-reliant, resourceful, she was equal to any emergency and the announcement of her passing will quicken old memories in the hearts of many who recall her kindly ministries in the days when the nearest doctor was twenty-five miles away. Mrs. Hopkins on horseback would make her way by day and night, over the trails and through the woods to relieve and care for the sick and suffering. Her wide knowledge of medicinal aids and her skill in nursing brought her into practically every home in all that section, while her cheery optimism gave new courage to the anxious and her generous gifts brought comfort to the distressed.

Her many deeds of loving and heroic self-sacrifice, the influence of her godly life render her memory fragrant.

Mrs. Hopkins was a vigorous and strong personality; always impressive, she was a striking figure in any company.

To hear her relate, in her decisive and trenchant speech, stories of the adventurous life of early days, to watch the expressive play of her mobile features, was to experience an unforgettable thrill and to catch a glimpse of that flaming, unconquerable Spirit of the West that wove stability and greatness into the fibre of our county life.

Thirty-seven years were spent in the mountain home; scores of people remember delightful days in its genial atmosphere with the gentle courteous host and efficient, energetic hostess.

In 1904, Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins moved to Ukiah to spend their declining years. In the new home, with everything to insure ease and comfort, ten happy years went by, and then the blissful wedded life of fifty-seven years was broken by the passing of Mr. Hopkins in 1914. The devotion of these two to each other was rare and Mrs. Hopkins felt the separation most keenly. The religious element was vital in her life and through the ten long, lonely years of her widowhood she was sustained by her unfaltering trust in God. She longed to go to her beloved and the friends who have been saddened by her going, rejoice with her that at last she has the desire of her heart.

To the very last she retained all her faculties and managed all her business affairs.

The simple funeral service was held in the home on the morning of the 8th, Rev. E. R. Couch officiating. Her wishes were all complied with, and her body was laid beside that of her husband in the Ukiah cemetery.

One sister and several nephews and nieces survive, residing in the East. Her niece, Mrs. Jennie Kent, of Palo Alto, was with her at the end. Among oldtime friends from a distance who came for the funeral were Mrs. Elise Drexler and Miss Jean MacCallum of San Francisco, Mrs. Ida Oppenlander of Comptche, James Porterfield of Mendocino, Mrs. Ross Miller and Miss Anna Ross of Fort Bragg.

FARM BUREAU NOTES

Farm Bureau Active in Potter Valley

The Potter Valley center of the Mendocino County Farm Bureau, under the leadership of President R. R. Ingels, and Secretary O. B. Philben, has taken a definite place in the constructive development and improvement of agricultural conditions in Potter valley.

The most important work undertaken by the Potter valley farm bureau is the organization of an irrigation project which will result in the furnishing of ample water for irrigation of approximately 5000 acres.

Potter valley is known as one of the most productive and fertile valleys in Mendocino county. Potter valley pears, apples and melons are second to none and fruit marketed from this section this year brought the highest price on many of the leading markets in the United States. Alfalfa hay and grain production and dairying are also carried on to a great extent in the valley.

With such a fertile territory already so productive, the completing of an irrigation project will mean untold prosperity to the Potter valley farmers. Many of the people in the valley are already making plans for the planting of additional pears, alfalfa and other crops, and the certainty of a crop each year with an assurance of an abundance of water will result in an added stimulus to dairying and all types of farming in the valley.

The directors of the irrigation district consisting of Charles Sagehorn, A. F. Busch, James Eddie, J. G. Newman, E. V. Jones, A. F. Whittaker, C. D. Hardisty and R. R. Ingels are working incessantly to complete the project in order that the water in question will be available for the irrigation of 1925 crops. An engineer has been employed, the survey completed, and the plotting of the district will soon be under way.

The Potter valley farm center is also conducting such projects as coyote control, the securing of better service and rate from public utilities, horticultural and dairy improvement and the control of noxious weeds.

Potter valley has a strong membership of active and progressive farmers and the work of the farm bureau in the valley is now definitely established and is considered most profitable from an educational, as well as economical standpoint.

The Mendocino County farm bureau is now busily engaged in laying the foundation for an active year in 1925.

The county organization which has been a potential factor in the agricultural growth of Mendocino county, is now holding regular meetings at all farm centers, or practically every community in the county. Each section has its problems that are of vital importance to every farmer and each meeting should see all farmers present to better enable the farm bureau and the farm advisor to meet the needs of the community.

Farm Advisor Myszka and Assistant Farm Advisor Foot, as representatives of the University of California and the United States Department of Agriculture, attend all meetings. Their entire work and efforts are devoted to bettering the agricultural conditions of the county. There is not a problem confronting the Mendocino county farmer but what can be met and solved by the farm bureau and farm advisor's office. The entire force of trained specialists of the university are at the service of Mendocino county through the farm advisor's office.

The farm bureau is at the service of every farmer in the county and all farmers, whether members of the organization or not, are invited to attend all meetings and take part in the activities of the organization.

Bob Rodgers, a former Ukiah boy, was here this week en route from his home in San Francisco to Eureka on business.

DEATH OF MRS. JONES

Mrs. Jones, mother of Mrs. D. R. Smith of Talmage, passed away at her daughter's home there last Friday. Mrs. Jones had suffered an attack of paralysis, which, complicated with organic trouble, made her recovery an impossibility. The remains were shipped to Healdsburg for interment.

The sincere sympathy of many friends in Ukiah is extended Mrs. Smith in her loss.

Bad Check Artists

This week Ukiah was visited by a couple of men who took away a few dollars by that old system of cashing worthless checks.

This method of relieving Ukiah people of their money gets publicity but the amounts taken are very small compared to what is taken by stock salesmen with promises of big dividends.

Don't listen to the STRANGER.

Do you ever hunt up strangers to let them in on any good thing you may have?

You do not, nor does the other fellow.

ANGRY BUCK CHARGES AT AUTOMOBILE ON HIGHWAY

Local Men Returning From Quail Hunt Tell of Remarkable Experience

Les Allenby, Jack Lane, Wright Copsey, Arthur Tibbetts and Ernest Larson spent last Tuesday on a quail hunt in the Laytonville section. As they were returning home late that evening they had a very unusual experience with a buck deer a short distance above Longvale.

Allenby, who was driving the car, noticed two points of light at some distance ahead, slightly to one side of the road. Thinking it was a cat's or some small varmint's eyes shinning in the rays of the headlight, and as the road was straight and level, he did not think of slackening his speed. He was much surprised, therefore, when the two points shifted to the center of the road and began to come toward the car. At the same time behind the two points of light a dark body loomed up through the ground fog that filled the air at that place. It looked like a dog, and Les, unable to avoid a collision, shut off his gas and tried to stop. Just before the impact, Allenby and his companions caught a good view of the animal, in the full ray of the headlights. It proved to be a buck deer with head lowered and charging at full speed. The car struck him on the back of his lowered head and passed clear over him. The boys got out as soon as the car could be stopped. The deer was lying in the road, seemingly lifeless. He had six points on each side and was a monster for size. As they were looking over him he scrambled to his feet suddenly and attempted to climb the bank. He fell back once, but tried it again and this time was successful and disappeared into the brush. The boys folowed his trail with a flashlight for about two hundred yards by the blood and the hoof tracks, but gave up the search for him and resumed their trip home.

Allenby brought two pieces of the deer's antlers which were broken off and which he found in the road. He will keep them as souvenirs of his very remarkable experience.

TWO COAST MILLS TO RESUME OPERATIONS

News of great importance to the south coast section was given out this week, when it was stated that the Mendocino and Greenwood mills would resume operations, the Mendocino plant probably next week and the Greenwood plant a few weeks later. The Mendocino mill shut down several weeks ago and it was thought would not start again until after the first of the year. The shutdown was made necessary on account of a cracked cylinder in the engine, which it was thought would take until after January 1 to repair. The repairs are almost completed, however, and the mill is expected to start next Monday.

The Greenwood mill was shut down pending a change in the personnel of the ownership and management. J. S. Ross, for years superintendent of the Mendocino mill, is said to have bought a controlling interest in the Greenwood plant from Lamont Rowlands and will have active charge of the plant. There is timber for ten years capacity run on Greenwood creek and the railroad bed has been graded for some time clear to this timber, a distance of about ten miles. The rails will be moved from Elk creek at once.

The resumption of work by these two plants will restore prosperity to that section of the coast, which was hard hit when they shut down.

WILLITS MAN DROWNED IN RIVER NEAR HEARST

(Willits News)

Warner O. Barrett, 54, local concrete contractor, was found dead in Eel river near Hearst last Saturday morning.

According to the facts obtained about the case, Barrett left his home in Willits last Tuesday stating that he was going to his ranch near Hearst. That was the last time he was seen by his friends.

On Thursday, H. White and his two sons who were trapping along the Eel river, met Barrett and asked him where Perry Smith lived. In response Barrett replied in a dazed manner, "Ask Ott." White then asked where was "Ott" and to that Barrett said "you will find him up there."

Barrett then proceeded down the river. White succeeded in finding Smith's home and related the incident to Smith. After White told his story, Smith thought it might have been Andy Zimmerman who had been reported lost for the past four weeks, and notified Willits authorities.

A search was started Friday and the party consisting of J. H. McElfish, Morgan Whitcomb, White and his two sons, and the Houx brothers, owning a ranch nearby, picked up Barrett's trail which led to the river.

At that point the trail was conflicting. Tracks led into the river. It was thought at that time that Barrett was Zimmerman and work of dragging the river then started and continued until sundown. Early Saturday morning larger drag hooks were obtained and the work continued.

About ten o'clock Saturday morning, the body of Barrett was brought to the surface. He was fully dressed with the exception of one shoe.

At that time it was believed that his death was caused by drowning. At the coroner's inquest Sunday it was found that Barrett had a broken neck. There was no water in the man's lungs. It is believed that he climbed some rocks near the river and slipped, striking on his head. It is thought that he sustained the broken neck in the fall and rolled into the river.

HAS FINGERS AMPUTATED

D. H. Lawson, who has been employed all summer at Camp 11, returned here Tuesday from the Coast Redwood hospital at Fort Bragg, where he had been for the past two months as a result of having his fingers amputated. Mr. Lawson was returning to his home in Boonville. —Beacon.

FORT BRAGG GRID ELEVEN WINS WITH 47-0 SCORE

The Fort Bragg high school football team defeated the Ukiah eleven at Fort Bragg last Tuesday by the overwhelming score of 47-0. The Ukiah lads played an exceptionally poor game, seeming to be unable to pull themselves together and get going. Fort Bragg, on the other hand, was full of fight and had all the confidence that goes with playing on the home gridiron backed by a crowd of enthusiastic rooters.

Fort Bragg's first touchdown and goal were made in the first quarter. Ukiah managed to hold them after that until the third quarter but was unable to get an effective offense started. In the third quarter the coast boys made two touchdowns and in the final quarter four more.

The lineup was as follows:

Gibson	R E L	Dahl
Weselsky	R T L	Tomborini
Roeder	R G L	Borelli
Leno	C	Walley
York	L G R	Vann
Storer	L T R	Incerti
Bechtol	L E R	Coplano
Kehoe	Q	Scheper
Zimmerman	R H L	Penitenti
Minetti	L H R	Seghetti
Crawford	F	Saari

Substitutes—Ukiah: Scholl for Bechtol; Leno for Scholl; Hoenig for Crawford; Fraser for Zimmerman. Fort Bragg—Albert Penitenti for Vann; Jack Scheper for Dahl; Cummings for Saari.

HUNTER FOUND GUILTY OF ASSAULT CHARGE

Harry Hunter, of Fort Bragg, was tried in the superior court by a jury last Monday and found guilty of assault with a deadly weapon. The getting of the jury was over in about forty minutes from the time court convened and, it is believed, furnishes a record as regards the shortness of the time consumed. Both District Attorney Hurley and Attorney Brazier, who handled the defense, left it up to Judge Preston mostly to examine the veniremen. The case went to the jury and the verdict was returned the same day.

The circumstances which brought about Hunter's arrest took place in Fort Bragg several months ago, when he entered his wife's apartment after they had become separated and flourished a revolver in a threatening manner after she had refused to become reconciled with him. She climbed out the window of her apartment and dropped from there to the sidewalk.

Hunter was sentenced Wednesday morning by Judge Preston to serve not more than 10 years in San Quentin.

Hunter, it is understood, had an opportunity to plead guilty to the lesser charge of simple assault before a justice of the peace but refused.

He said as the jury filed out to consider their verdict that it ought not to take them more than about five minutes. It did not take them much longer than that but the verdict was not exactly the one expected by the prisoner.

MACK'S LOG BOOK

Dispatch-Democrat,

Well folks, since writing my last letter I have been wandering up and down the state of Texas like a lost soul. I have traveled over good roads, bad roads and worse roads. This is a wonderful big state. I have always heard that cotton was king down here, and now I know that this is so. I have driven through cotton fields for days and days, and I wonder how in the world they will ever get it picked, but as we get farther south, we have met the cotton pickers coming north in all kinds of ways. Some afoot, some on mules, some in old wagons and hundreds of others in every kind of automobile that was ever heard of anywhere else than the south. I think the state of Texas has more cotton gins than Carter has pills. It seems like there is a cotton gin every mile or two on every road I have been over. The cotton pickers down here make good wages, and that is why whole families follow the cotton from south to north, same as they follow the fruit in California. The pickers get 2c per lb. for picking and when the cotton is ginned (or seeded) the grower gets 1000 lbs. of cotton seed to 500 lbs. of cotton. A bale of cotton weighs about 500 lbs. and I think it averages about 1½ bales to the acre, and is worth 20c per lb., which makes the grower $150 to the acre. We have seen cotton plantations here that contained 5000 acres, and there are many others just as large. We were in the city of Coleman, Texas, a few days ago, and saw the cotton exchange for the first time. It sure was a busy place. Besides cotton you see thousands of head of cattle which seem to run to the white face breed, but the cattle men tell me that cattle are a losing proposition this year. They are only getting $10 a head for beef cattle and calves are selling at three cents a lb. but in most towns there is very little difference in prices of meat here and at home.

Yesterday (Sunday) we drove through the oil country—Cisco, Breckenridge, and Ranger district. It looks just like Bakersfield district. We came to a place called Big Springs on the Bank Head highway, and turned south. Here the country is covered with mesquite trees and looks fine. We came back into the Bank Head highway at a place called Mineral Springs, a beautiful little town, and here the country changed from mesquite to pin oak and mush oak timber, and the country is all fenced and covered with little farms. This morning after driving through the beautiful little town of Weatherford, Texas, we came to a most magnificent knoll. It was modeled after a Spanish castle and was a thing of beauty. Over the high arch gate we read these words, Knights of Pythias Home. We turned our car through the gate and up the driveway and stopped in front long enough to take a panorama picture of the castle, and then we presented ourselves at the door and were welcomed and shown every courtesy possible. The superintendent, whose name I am sorry to say I cannot remember correctly, and his charming wife and daughter made us feel very welcome. This home is for Pythian children and at present they have 121 children ranging in age from three to 17—mostly all girls. They are given a good business education and are taught music and given every advantage that can be given them. We were shown through the building and were really surprised at how nice it was arranged. They have a beautiful reception room and a lovely guest room, where visiting relatives or friends of the girls can stay three days. They have an orchestra and are beginning to broadcast their music by radio. Perhaps we may hear them in Ukiah some day. The superintendent refused to let us leave without lunch and so rather than be reported to the grand lodge for insubordination, we stayed and enjoyed a lovely hour. After lunch several of the little ones did some very creditable athletic stunts for our benefit, and then after they had taken a look at our caravan we bid them adieu and wended our way on to Fort Worth, which is a modern, progressive city, with beautiful buildings, and is rated the second healthiest city in the U. S. The distance between Fort Worth and Dallas is only about 33 miles, and the road between is like a city street.

But I will insist that California is the only state worth living in, and Ukiah, Calif., is where I live. Good night, folks, will write next week.

Ed Beale and John Matson, of Elk and Ed Dillingham, of Navarro, were among the very prominent south coasters in town this week, all being members of the grand jury. Messrs. Beale and Dillingham are engaged in ranching, while Mr. Matson is in the garage business.

MANY WOODS SUITABLE FOR VENEER MAKING

(Beacon)

A. E. Johnston had a crew busy putting on a roof on the veneer mill at Russian Gulch the fore part of the week. The work is now completed and the machinery and working force are now protected from the rain. Veneer turned at the mill was used for the roofing and put on in large strips which permit covering a large space in a short time. There is considerable stock at the mill and this can be seasoned much quicker now that there is a roof to protect it.

Mr. Johnston has recently experimented with a number of woods and finds that there are a number of varieties that can be successfully turned out. Bull pine and chinquapin oak make a very satisfactory container material. There is a very large supply of the latter timber along this coast. A large madrone log was turned recently and the sheet from it showed some very pretty grains and high colorings that should recommend it for furniture work. Tan oak also turns out a fair product that no doubt will be utilized in time and thus save a great amount of fine wood that otherwise would be lost.

Horticultural Commissioner and Mrs. Orval Tadlock left the latter part of last week for a two weeks' vacation trip.

Print the News and Tell the Truth

By J. B. SANFORD

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 12.—"But, 'twas a famous victory." Yes, it was more than that; it was an AMERICAN VICTORY. The patriotic citizens of both parties placed patriotism above partisanship and swatted the un-American La Follette hard.

* * * * *

At the beginning of the campaign La Follette gained recruits from both of the old parties at the ratio of about three republicans to two democrats. The yellow journals added to the din and soon had the Wisconsin senator away in the lead. Along toward the middle of October the talk was pretty strong for La Follette and he reached his peak about October 14. The yellow journals scared the patriots of both parties. Democrats began to use their brains. They realized that their candidate, the brainest of all, had little or no chance of winning the presidency. As they "Remembered the Maine" 26 years ago, so they decided to "Remember Wilson" now; and rather than see the man elected who helped assassinate poor Wilson, they turned by the millions and voted for President Coolidge, who was at least an Amerian. The vote of the states east, north and west shows that conclusively.

* * * * *

The yellow journals realized that they had overdone the thing and sent Wilson democrats to Coolidge in a stampede seldom ever seen in American politics. So, it must be called an American Victory. The majority of the people in both parties are patriotic American citizens and can always be trusted to do the right thing at the right time. No party has a monopoly on patriotism. All honor to the brave men on each side who made the eagle scream on November 4th by swatting the un-American candidate.

* * * * *

Those life long democrats who remained in the party to retain their party reguarlity and solidarity by casting their votes for John W. Davis have the satisfaction and consolation of knowing that they voted for one of the biggest and brainiest men that ever ran for the presidency. Those who stepped aside for the present crisis, loved their country more than they did their party, and have the respect and esteem of their countrymen in every state in the union. Hide bound partisanship has gone forever.

* * * * *

California occupied a position in the lime light for several weeks as Hiram Johnson had been a contestant against President Coolidge for the republican nomination. For the first time in his life, Hiram remained as silent as an oyster in a graveyard. He could not stand his defeat and endorse his successful opponent, so he remained like a sphynx. His machine henchmen, however, got into the La Follette camp early in the fight and remained there thinking they would be in the successful band wagon. This is proven by the strong vote La Follette got in the Johnson strongholds of the state.

This marks the final downfall of Hiram Johnson in California politics. He had the chance to rehabilitate himself, but failed to grasp the situation, and sulked in his tent. Many who followed him in previous campaigns now say they are "through" with Johnson, because he is never a republican unless he happens to be the nominee and wants something.

* * * * *

The "progressive hypocrites" who helped Johnson defeat Taft and Hughes and tried to defeat Coolidge are also in the down and out club with Johnson and will be remembered by the patriotic voters of both parties. Any one can be a good winner, but Johnson and his crowd just could not be good losers. It is not in their make-up.

* * * * *

"We can't all play a winning game—Someone is sure to lose;
Yet we can play, so that our name no one may dare accuse;
That when the Master Referee scores against our name,
It won't be whether we've won or lost, but HOW we've played the game."

* * * * *

How different and how manly was the attitude of Governor Richardson in the patriotic fight for the perpetuity of American institutions. He espoused the cause of President Coolidge in the California primaries and was largely responsible for the president's 50,000 majority last May. When the fight was brewing for the control of the state convention and the state committee, Governor Richardson refused to take any hand in a fight for control for fear it might injure President Coolidge's chances of carrying the state in November. There was no fight as far as the governor was concerned. He and his friends in the republican party did all they could for President Coolidge. The governor went so far as to send out statements and interviews in which he urged all patriotic citizens, regardless of politics, to support the president for re-election.

* * * * *

And after the election, the governor issued a statement in which he thanked all that had contributed to the victory, giving democrats equal praise with republicans. That's just like Richardson. He fully realized that Coolidge would never have seen daylight in this state had it not been for the 576,000 patriotic citizens who placed the good of the state above party and elected Richardson governor in 1922. And this same bunch of taxpayers, reinforced by the Coolidge cohorts, will rise up in their power and re-nominate and re-elect F. W. Richardson governor in 1926.

Two More Big Pictures for Ukiah Movie Fans

Local movie fans will no doubt be glad to know that one of the leading attractions at Ukiah's Theatre Beautiful for the coming week is to be "Wages of Virtue," another of Paramount's Famous Forty directed by Allan Dawn and featuring Gloria Swanson in one of her best roles.

It is only after going through the fires of folly and scandal that she finds the road that leads to real happiness so you can rest assured that this marvelous story, chockful of every element and feminine appeal which helps to make "Glorious" Gloria such a popular favorite will prove delightful entertainment for young and old.

This story is taken from the world famous novel, "Coast of Folly," which was written by Coningsby Dawson, and is considered by critics far and near as one of the best novels of recent years as well as being one of the best attractions in which any of the popular screen stars have appeared.

TEN COMMANDMENTS COMING

It will also be good news to movie fans of Mendocino and Lake counties to know that Mr. George M. Mann, the popular owner of the State theatre, is to present Cecil B. De Mille's mammouth Paramount production, "The Ten Commandments," at Ukiah on Wednesday, December 17, afternoon and evening only. This attraction features Theodore Roberts, Leatrice Joy, Richard Dix, Nita Naldi, Rod La Rocque, Estelle Taylor, Charles De Roche, Julia Faye, Robert Edeson, Edythe Chapman, James Neill and Agnes Ayres and will be presented here with a thirteen piece orchestra, the same as it has been for the last seven weeks at the Columbia theatre of San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Milne, former residents of Talmage, were in Ukiah this week, making arrangements to move their household furniture to Petaluma, where Mr. Milne has a good position with the Associated Oil Co. They were accompanied back to Petaluma by Mrs. Mary Milne, who will pass several weeks there with them.

MRS JAMES FARRIS ANSWERS LAST CALL

Member of Well Known Pioneer Family Laid to Rest Last Saturday

Funeral services were held at Hopland last Saturday morning for Mrs. James B. Faris, who passed away in Ukiah the previous Wednesday after an illness of several weeks.

Mrs. Faris was a member of the well known pioneer McDonald family, which settled where the Mountain house, below Hopland, now stands. They maintained a stopping place there for many years, and the place still carries the name of "McDonald."

Mrs. Faris was born in Sonoma, April 11, 1851, and it was about seven years after her birth that her father, the late Alexander C. McDonald, came to this county, where she grew to girlhood and young womanhood.

She leaves to mourn her demise her husband, three brothers and two sisters, as follows: George, Richard and James McDonald, Mrs. Lillian White and Mrs. Flo Cooper.

The sincere sympathy of a host of old-time friends of the family is extended to them in their bereavement.
